

Marco Cellini

Curriculum Vitae

Graduated Cum Laude in Political Science, International Relations, at the Free University of Social Studies (LUISS) Guido Carli, Rome. I obtained a Ph.D. in Political Science at the same university, with the higher grade, developing a thesis on the empirical analysis of the relation between political regimes and inequality. I am currently a research fellow at the Italian National Research Council (CNR) - Institute for Research on Population and Social Policies (IRPPS). My research interests include democratic theory, global governance, migration, populism, inequality, and gender studies.

Other Experiences

- 2021 Participation to the European Project "MINDtheGEPs, Gender Equality in Research", NATIONAL RESEARCH COUNCIL (CNR) - INSTITUTE FOR RESEARCH ON POPULATION AND SOCIAL POLICIES (IRPPS), Rome.
As a research fellow at IRPPS-CNR, and as part of the COSE research group, under the supervision of Doctor Lucio Pisacane, I participated to the implementation of the project by performing qualitative interview to CNR employees.
- 2020 Conception, design and implementation of the spontaneous research project "MIPAR - La partecipazione dei cittadini milanesi al Bilancio Partecipativo attraverso la Piattaforma MilanoPartecipa", NATIONAL RESEARCH COUNCIL (CNR) - INSTITUTE FOR RESEARCH ON POPULATION AND SOCIAL POLICIES (IRPPS), Rome.
As a research fellow at IRPPS-CNR, with Doctor Maria Cristina Antonucci, we conceptualized, designed and administered a survey dedicated to the participants of the Participatory Budget organized by the Municipality of Milan. The aim was to reconstruct the socio-demographic profile of these active citizens, interested in the public life of the city and involved in improving decision making; to understand the reasons for the participation in this process; and to detect the self-assessment of the experience.
- 2020 Participation to the Project "Evaluation plan of the Italian Roma, Sinti and Caminanti Strategy 2012-2020, created by CNR-Irpps for UNAR", NATIONAL RESEARCH COUNCIL (CNR) - INSTITUTE FOR RESEARCH ON POPULATION AND SOCIAL POLICIES (IRPPS), Rome.
As a research fellow at the IRPPS-CNR, under the supervision of Professor Marco Accorinti, I participated to the implementation of the project by collecting and systematising the data concerning the Strategy. Furthermore, I collaborated to the writing of the Project's final report.
- Jun 2019 Lecturer, ALTA SCUOLA INTERNAZIONALE DI SOCIOLOGIA 2019 (ASIS).
Lecture on the European asylum policies, their implications, and possible paths to overcome the issues raised by the Dublin System and the externalisation of the EU's borders control.
- 2018 Co-editor of the online series "Populism and Democracy", GLOBAL-E, UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA SANTA BARBARA.
Co-editing of a series of articles discussing the implications of populism for democratic systems.
- Feb 2015 Participation to the European Project "Citi-Rights Europe", NATIONAL RESEARCH COUNCIL (CNR) - INSTITUTE FOR RESEARCH ON POPULATION AND SOCIAL POLICIES (IRPPS), Rome.
Mar 2016
As an intern, part of the research team, I analysed how the European law can fill the legislative gaps in national law on human rights and citizenship, in particular with respect to the right to non-discrimination based on sexual orientation, and the right to asylum.

Feb 2015 Referee, REFEREE ACTIVITIES FOR SEVERAL SCIENTIFIC JOURNALS AND Present EDITED BOOKS.

Apr 2012 Intern, SPANISH CONSULATE, Florence.

Jun 2012 Learning consular and diplomatic procedures, official translations, and dealing with public.

2012 Freelancer, Rome.

2018 Translation, proofreading, web management, content writer, technical translations, and web design (WordPress).

Education

2015 Ph.D in Political Science, Free University of Social Studies (LUISS) Guido Carli, 2018 Rome, Grade – Excellent.

Thesis in Political Science.

Ph.D. Thesis

Title Democracy and Income Inequality: Searching for a Reciprocal Causal Relation.

Supervisor Professor Daniele Archibugi (CNR-IRPPS and Birkbeck University of London).

Referees Professor Vittorio Bufacchi (University College Cork) and Professor Antonio Savoia (University of Manchester).

Description The thesis explored the theoretical and empirical relation between political regimes and income inequality. Using a mixed qualitative/quantitative methodological approach, I developed a theoretical framework describing the relation between the two variables and I have tested it empirically.

2012 Master Degree in International Relations, Political Science, Free University

2014 of Social Studies LUISS Guido Carli, Rome, Grade – 110/110 Cum Laude.

Thesis in Political Science.

Masters Thesis

Title Democracy and Income Inequality: An Empirical Analysis.

Supervisor Professor Daniele Archibugi.

Description The thesis explored the relation between democracy and Income Inequality. Using a quantitative approach I have tested the presence and the direction of a causal relation between the two main variables.
